Relevant Customer Experience

A Reputation To Be Proud Of

As a prime contractor to the U.S. Department of Navy, US&S was tasked with replacing 65 HVAC/de-humidifier units on the Motor Missile Magazines at Kings Bay Naval Submarine Base, Kings Bay, GA. The work on this project entailed careful and precise communications to ensure the safety of all personnel at all times. The coordination efforts ensured the magazine was empty and in a ready-to-work state before the start of actual work on each unit. Once each old unit was removed and the new unit was installed, the new system was tested for heat and cool gains due to design changes in the duct work. Each test was documented and recorded through the automated controls system. Only after all test were passed, was the magazine deemed ready for use and ready for missile storage. Due to the nature of this project and the location within restricted areas of the base, US&S provided employees with required security clearances to perform the work as well as escort specialty workers onto the site as needed.
